From HI 25, continue driving on the bridle trail another 0.4 mile (about 640 meters) [in other words, drive in 0.6 mile from Harter Road] and park at the side of the trail just before you get to a power line tower. (There is enough room at the tower to turn your car around for driving out.)

Find the single flag east of the tower and in the woodline on the south side of the bridle trail (left side as you are driving in). Be cautious not to use the orange flags marking the power line right of way, which the electric company has placed on trees with two red stripes painted around their trunks.

From the single flag in the woodline, walk about 50 meters south to the point.
